

Free Activities

Friday, October 6–Sunday, October 8 & Monday, October 9

DAILY ACTIVITIES

Feed the Cows 10:30 a.m.
Farm-in-the-Zoo

Glasses of milk start with handfuls of hay. Get nose-to-nose with Holstein dairy cows.

Meet an Animal 11 a.m.
Regenstein Small Mammal–Reptile House

Meet a live animal! A staff member will share information and answer your questions during this up-close encounter.

Bat Chat 11:45 a.m.
Regenstein Small Mammal–Reptile House

Don't fear bats! In this chat we'll debunk common bat myths and learn why bats are more important to us than we may think.

Snow Monkey Science 11:45 a.m.
Regenstein Macaque Forest (Monday-Friday only)

Humans aren't the only primates that use technology. Find out how we use touchscreens to study thinking and learning in Japanese macaques.

Polar Bear Training 1 p.m.
Walter Family Arctic Tundra

Join us as we reveal how zoo staff care for polar bears and what traits make them top predators in the Arctic.

Ape Cognition and Care 1:30 p.m.
Regenstein Center for African Apes

Our staff uses surprising methods to study how great apes think and learn. Join us for a window into the world of science and animal care.

Seal Training and Feeding 2 p.m.
Kovler Seal Pool

Training isn't just for show -- it helps us take care of animals! Learn how by watching one of our daily training sessions with seals.

Free Flight Feeding 2:30 p.m.
McCormick Bird House

Enter a lush forest with tropical birds flying overhead as we offer food to fit every feathered appetite.

BONUS ENRICHMENT

See our animals enjoy some special treats!

Friday, October 6

Snow Leopard 11 a.m.
Kovler Lion House

Eastern Black Rhinoceros 3 p.m.
Regenstein African Journey

Saturday, October 7

Sichuan Takins 11 a.m.
Camel & Zebra area

Red Pandas 3 p.m.
Kovler Lion House

Sunday, October 8

Chimpanzees 11 a.m.
Regenstein Center for African Apes

Bactrian Camels 3 p.m.
Camel & Zebra Area

Monday, October 9

Puma 11 a.m.
Kovler Lion House

Alpacas 3 p.m.
Camel & Zebra Area

Activities are subject to cancellation due to animal needs or inclement weather.

LINCOLN PARK ZOO.
FALL FEST

SPECIAL THANKS TO

