Friday, October 27–Sunday, October 29

DAILY ACTIVITIES

Feed the Cows 10:30 a.m.
Farm-in-the-Zoo

Glasses of milk start with handfuls of hay. Get nose-to-nose with Holstein dairy cows.

Meet an Animal 11 a.m.
Regenstein Small Mammal–Reptile House

Meet a live animal! A staff member will share information and answer your questions during this up-close encounter.

Bat Chat 11:45 a.m.
Regenstein Small Mammal–Reptile House

Don't fear bats! In this chat we'll debunk common bat myths and learn why bats are more important to us than we may think.

Snow Monkey Science 11:45 a.m.
Regenstein Macaque Forest (Monday-Friday only)

Humans aren't the only primates that use technology. Find out how we use touchscreens to study thinking and learning in Japanese macaques.

Polar Bear Training 1 p.m.
Walter Family Arctic Tundra

Join us as we reveal how zoo staff care for polar bears and what traits make them top predators in the Arctic.

Ape Cognition and Care 1:30 p.m.
Regenstein Center for African Apes

Our staff uses surprising methods to study how great apes think and learn. Join us for a window into the world of science and animal care.

Seal Training and Feeding 2 p.m.
Kovler Seal Pool

Training isn't just for show -- it helps us take care of animals! Learn how by watching one of our daily training sessions with seals.

Free Flight Feeding 2:30 p.m.
McCormick Bird House

Enter a lush forest with tropical birds flying overhead as we offer food to fit every feathered appetite.
